Recently the College acquired Interactive 3-Dimensional (i3D) technologies that allow faculty to visually demonstrate complex processes and procedures in the classroom.   The i3D technologies employ the learning objects repository to deliver 3D images to faculty.   Dental Assisting, Funeral Service Education, Computer Technologies and Criminal Justice programs are actively using this new technology and many additional programs will be joining them with the addition of seven more i3D classrooms in 2010.