Related Measures:

M 1: Review of Academic Detailed Assessment Reports
It is important that the Office of the President has direct evidence available for examination that documents efforts for promoting quality, efficiency, and effectiveness in its educational programs. It is equally important that these programs undergo a continuous cycle of assessment and that assessment results are used for program improvements. In order to confirm that this occurs on a regular basis, the President will randomly select three educational programs for his personal examination from the previous year's assessment cycle. He will review the intended outcomes, measures, findings, action plans, and responses to analysis questions for each of the selected program areas, as reported in their Detailed Assessment Report (DAR) maintained in WEAVEonline. In doing so, he will demonstrate his personal commitment to program quality and effective, meaningful assessment. This review will be completed by November 1, 2009.

Source of Evidence: Existing data

Achievement Target:
The President will review three educational program areas based on their Detailed Assessment Reports. He will report his findings, action planning, and analysis within WEAVEonline and share his observations with all program areas of the College.

Related Measures:

M 3: Survey of Services

In order to meet the diverse and ever-changing needs of the workforce in our community and the surrounding region, it is imperative that FTCC seek input from and build relationships with our community and regional partners. The President will encourage and monitor contacts with responsible parties associated with the BRAC initiative, the Economic Development Committee, the Military Business Center, the Chamber of Commerce, and the Center for Business and Industry. Surveys will be administered as the College is offering workforce development courses to these local community and regional partners. These surveys will be administered at the conclusion of each workforce development course/training session by representatives from the Offices of the Associate Vice President for Continuing Education or the Office of the Associate Vice President of Curriculum programs. The completed surveys will be forwarded to the IEA Director within 10 calendar days from the course/training completion date and will be tabulated by the IEA office, including narrative comments submitted by the course/training attendees. The Director of IEA will provide to the President, not later than May 30, 2010, a spreadsheet showing survey respondent results for each individual course survey administered throughout the year. The spreadsheet will also indicate the overall average of the collective survey results. This spreadsheet will be used by the President to gauge the respondent’s opinions of the quality of the workforce development related courses delivered throughout the year.
Source of Evidence: Service Quality

Achievement Target:

The tabulated results from the surveys of community and regional partners will indicate that at least 85% of the collective respondents felt that courses offered through FTCC’s workforce development initiatives met or exceeded their expectations. The President’s review, analysis and comments will be shared with appropriate faculty and staff for ongoing continuous improvement processes for future delivery of similar workforce development courses.

O 4: Funding Sources for Promoting Technology

The President’s office will evaluate the funding sources that promote the use of technology in the delivery of workforce development courses.

Associations:

Institutional Priorities:

- 2 EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMS-To provide a comprehensive educational program committed to quality...

Related Measures:

M 4: Funding Source Report

In order to meet the ever-increasing demand for a skilled and educated workforce, alternatives to traditional delivery modes must be available. The use of advanced instructional technologies (such as i3D) and the delivery of abbreviated, focused courses that are tailored to the needs of the workforce will help meet this demand. Given the declining state of the current economy and the associated decline of College revenue, it is critical that the President's office assess sources of technology-related funding targeted for the development and delivery of industry-specific courses and certifications. A baseline data report for the academic year of 2008-09 will be posted in the document repository during the October-November 2009 time period. In June 2010, funding for technology will be assessed for academic year 2009-2010 and compared to the baseline 2008-2009 report.

Achievement Target:

The amount of funding targeted for the use of advanced technology in workforce development does not decrease when compared to funding received during 2008-09. The analysis and comparison of the two years of funding resources will be shared with appropriate faculty-staff for consideration as they are developing their Strategic Plan activities for year 2010-2015 and the findings report will also be posted within the document repository.
