

Redwood Report2Web® Document Repository is a web-based technology that allows for document control. It was recently acquired by the College to allow a central location for the filing of Institution-wide documents, publications and reports. This technology allows faculty and staff to locate College web-based documents using search engines.